

NUTRITIONAL AIDS

NUTRITIONAL AIDS

This category encompasses vitamins, minerals, and electrolytes. The products available include injectables, liquids, powders, and tablets. Vitamins and minerals are essential to the good health and development of all animals. Deficiency states can lead to disease and some cases morbidity. Proper usage is also important, if deficiency symptoms persist after drug treatment, discontinue use and consult a Veterinarian or Nutritionist to examine the feeding program.